This Week in ELA Grades 6-8...

Sixth Grade presented Who I Am projects to the class. The projects are gorgeous! We also continued incorporating daily routines and procedures for ELA class. We continued closely reading the short story, "Stray" by Cynthia Rylant, and we read our Independent Reading (IR) books. We practiced writing text-dependent paragraphs and created heart maps for writing territories. Monday, we will begin Wordly Wise Lesson 1 activities. We continued grammar activity pages identifying nouns, and we will complete a nouns quiz Tuesday. We also practiced cursive writing. We reviewed expectations for show-and-tell public speaking projects, which will be due in October. Homework is posted in Google Classroom.

Seventh Grade continued incorporating daily routines and procedures for ELA class. We continued closely reading the short story, "Seventh Grade" by Gary Soto, and we read our Independent Reading (IR) books. We practiced writing text-dependent paragraphs and created heart maps for writing territories. Monday, we will begin Wordly Wise Lesson 1 activities. We continued grammar activity pages identifying nouns, and we will complete a nouns quiz Tuesday. We also practiced cursive writing. We reviewed expectations for show-and-tell public speaking projects, which will be due in October. Homework is posted in Google Classroom.

Eighth Grade continued incorporating daily routines and procedures for ELA class. We continued closely reading the short story, "The Lottery" by Shirley Jackson, and we read our Independent Reading (IR) books. We practiced writing text-dependent paragraphs and created heart maps for writing territories. Monday, we will begin Wordly Wise Lesson 1 activities. ELA Grades 6-8...

Middle School English Language Arts Curriculum is aligned to the New Jersey Student Learning Standards for English Language Arts. We use the workshop model of instruction in both reading and writing. Students read and write across a wide variety of genres as well as study the effective uses of writing, mechanics, and grammar. The curriculum supports, encourages, and facilitates choice/independent reading that allows students to pursue topics and genres of interests. The curriculum also embeds text activities and literacy experiences that engage students in reading partnerships and deep, thoughtful discussions.

Sixth Grade texts include read alouds, poetry, nonfiction articles from Newsela and Scholastic Scope magazine, fiction texts, short stories, and the novels Hoot, by Carl Hiaasen and Wonder, by RJ Palacio.

Seventh Grade texts include read alouds, poetry, nonfiction articles from Newsela and Scholastic Scope magazine, fiction texts, short stories, and the novels The Giver, by Lois Lowry, Holes by Louis Sachar, and (possibly) Drums, Girls, and Dangerous Pie, by Jordan Sonnenblick.

Eighth Grade texts include read alouds, poetry, nonfiction articles from Newsela and Scholastic Scope magazine, fiction texts, short stories, and the novels The Outsiders, by S.E. Hinton, The Gospel According to Larry by Janet Tashjian, and Sleeping Freshmen Never Lie by David Lubar, and (possibly) Drums, Girls, and Dangerous Pie, by Jordan Sonnenblick.
